

Apprenticeships

Novartis offers talented young people a vocational training program that helps them become skilled professionals. The program's main focus is on R&D and chemical production. Interns can be trained in departments related to business, IT or technology.

Around 300 interns are trained in 11 different professions at the Basel plants.

Find out more about the individual apprenticeships

Contact

You can send any specific questions about apprenticeships to us via our contact form or you can contact us by telephone: Tel. +41 (0)61 696 96 99.

Experience vocational training at Novartis